Ms Sweet,

Thank for spending time with me this morning . I felt we had a very good productive conversation regarding the books in the Library.

Here are the links I told you about, I hope they work.

Looking forward to speaking with you after the commissions meeting.

Sincerely,

Beverly Marinelli

Just wanted to let you know that the library commission meeting will take place on April 27 rather than tomorrow. Had a potential quorum problem. I didn't want you to think that your concerns about "Revolutionary Voices" had been ignored. The book is now on the agenda for the 27th.

I'll be in touch next week.

The Library Commissioners supported our staff recommendation to remove "Revolutionary Voices" from our shelves. As the copies that are checked out return, we will take them out of circulation.

We appreciate your interest in the library.

We need to pull "Revolutionary Voices" by Amy Sonnie from our shelves. There are still two requests. How can we grab the books so that they never, ever get back into circulation. Copies need to totally disappear (as in not a good idea to send copies to the book sale).

Thanks.

Hi Mandy,

It was about the book "Revolutionary Voices." Pat and I have both talked to the reporter. What I said is that the commissioners supported the staff recommendation that the book be removed from our shelves. Normally we would not have involved the commissioners but in this case we did because we thought there might be some press interest based on the Board of Ed decision to remove the book from Rancocas Valley High School. I told him that we made the decision prior to the Board of Ed decision and that we do not like to remove books. It was felt, however, that the book was not appropriate.

I had a few calls from the philadelphia inquirer looking for information on the library. I didn't return the call. Anything going on that I should know? Strange they are calling me. I hate talking to the press! I talk too much (believe it or not).

Thanks

We were aware of the challenge at Rancocas Valley High School and took a look at the book. It was recommended both by Marge and by me that the book be removed. The commissioners supported our decision. There was no official challenge, no actual vote by the commissioners. We made the decision before the Board of Ed decided to remove the book at RV.

Gail,

From the grapevine, I hear that the system is taking the book off the shelves. Was there a challenge? What's the story?

(I realize this is a bit of a political football, but I'm just curious as to what brought this about.)

Thanks,

Andy

Hi,
No need to check into the blog, just thought you may recognize it.
I was just wondering how they got wind of the possible book removal. I am aware of the reporter talking to Pat & you and I thoroughly expected to see an article in the paper the next day but it never happened. That same reporter weeks before asked me if the book was in the local library and I said I didn't know !

Hi Bev,
I don't know this blog at all. Doesn't look particularly official. I'll check into it. I would guess that it is just a personal opinion thing. Have been on vacation -- sorry for the delay in responding.
